

October 2016

ERLPhase TESLA Power System Recorder customers,

Until now the TESLA 4000 has been offered as Model 4000 and Model 4003 to address different customer needs. We have now consolidated both models into one. This consolidation enables us to provide better service and upgrades to all customers, and at the same time continue to cater to different customer needs.

This version of the TESLA 4000 has been in production since September 1st, 2016, and may be ordered as outlined in the TESLA 4000 ordering template. It has been designed to conform to CE requirements while having all the same functionality, external terminations, and mounting. New options will soon be added to accommodate additional customer needs.

Production of Model 4003 is being phased out. Please contact us for specific requirements of Model 4003 during this transition period.

We look forward to hearing from you and thank you for your ongoing business with us,

Yours sincerely,
